WELCOME TO APRIL!

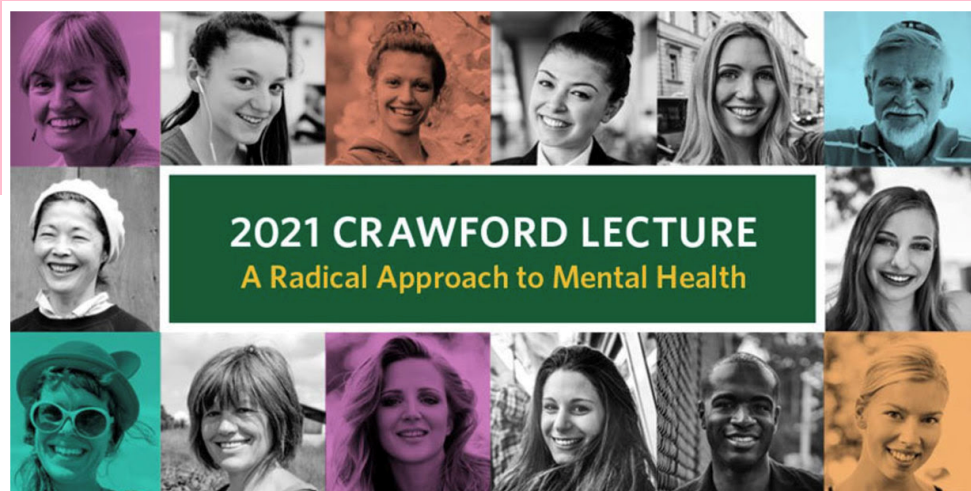

Hello NSA members! We hope you're all doing well and powering through this last stretch of the 2020-2021 academic year! In this issue, we'll review NSA's April events and give you a preview of May. We'll also provide you with some updates and reminders to keep in mind as we near the end of the semester. We hope you enjoy it!

RECAP OF APRIL

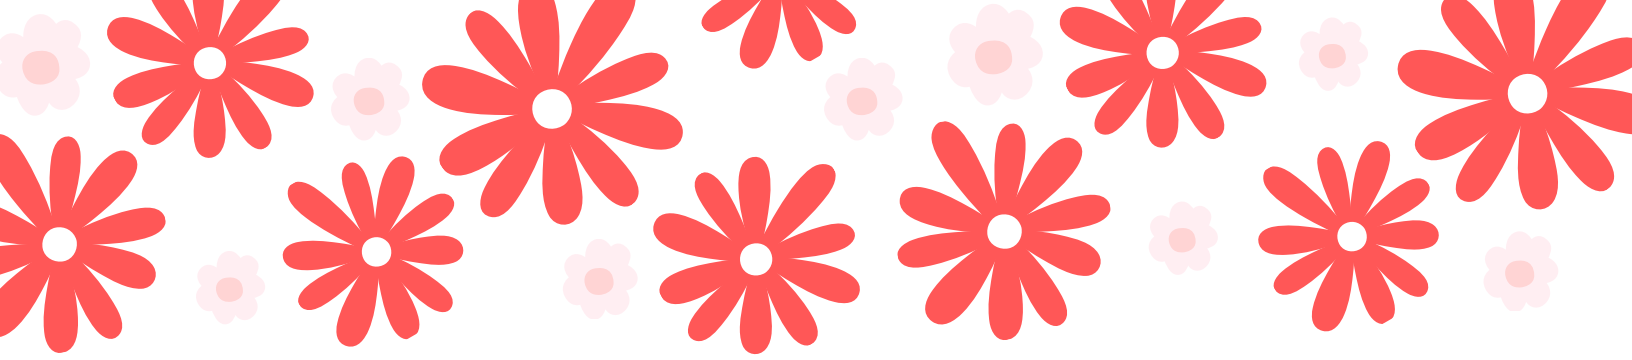

Crawford Lecture

This year, the School of Nursing and Health Professions' annual Crawford Lecture focused on mental health and how we, as future health professionals, can work towards real solutions to our nation's many problems that obstruct effectively addressing mental health. Some of these problems include equitable access, affordability, and a behavioral health workforce shortage. The 2021 Crawford Lecture took place over Zoom on April 14th. It was led by Dr. Ben F. Miller, the Chief Strategy Officer for Well Being Trust, and moderated by June Madsen Clausen, the Senior Associate Dean for USF's School of Nursing and Health Professions.

Heart-to-Heart April Event

April's Heart-to-Heart event took place on April 17th and it was a study session focused on fundamental HESI practice questions in preparation for the HESI exam in May! Big thanks to the amazing Quynh Le and Andrea Butler for hosting these events and making sure our fellow NSA members are ready for their pursuit of further learning!

PREVIEW OF MAY

Philanthropy Dares

Our awesome Philanthropy Chairs, Katelin and Jasmin, are running a "Philanthropy Dares" event on Instagram to raise money for the Child Mind Institute. The Child Mind Institute is a nonprofit that advocates for mental health care for children and their families. Visit their website, linked here, to learn more!

This event will continue through the rest of the semester and participation is completely voluntary. Participants will receive 1 point towards their NSA membership. If you have already fulfilled your points requirement for the Spring 2021 semester, your point from participation in the philanthropy dares will go towards your points for next semester!

To participate, sign up here, screenshot the dare board (pictured at right), come up with some dares, and start posting! Make sure people use this link to donate. Refer to the email that was sent out on April 22nd for more details.
